

BIO-short CURRICULUM VITAE - 2019

Professor Dr Sauro Salvatore (Orcid number: 0000-0002-2527-8776)

Currently professor in dental biomaterials and minimally invasive dentistry at the "Departamento de Odontología, Facultad de Ciencias de la Salud, Universidad CEU-Cardenal Herrera", coordinator of the "Dental Research" and Director (Principal Investigator) of the research group "In Situ Dental Tissues Engineering and Minimally Invasive Therapeutic Adhesive Rehabilitation" at the University CEU Cardinal Herrera of Valencia.

Professor Sauro is also honorary senior lecturer, Biomaterials, King's College London Dental Institute (KCLDI) at Guy's Hospital, London (UK) and Visiting Professor at Sechenov University of Moscow, School of Dentistry, Moscow, Russia.

He obtained his Ph.D in "Dental Biomaterials Research Pre-clinical Dentistry", and post-doctorate in "Dental Biomaterials/Pre-clinical Dentistry" at King's College London Dental Institute, London.

Professor Sauro has been working in dental biomaterials, preventive and minimally invasive dentistry research for 15 years (JCR - H-Index: 27), He has published, in collaboration with internationally renowned researchers, more than 100 articles in international peer-review journals with high impact in the dental field, more than 150 abstracts of research in international conferences, and two international and one national patents.

Professor Sauro is also part of the "editorial board" of the International Journal of Adhesion and Adhesive, Journal of Adhesive Dentistry, International Journal of Endodontics, Journal of Endodontics and the Journal of Dentistry. He is active member of the "IADR - International Association of Dental Research" and "AMD - Academy of Dental Materials".